VII. Anton SCHUVIE (1837-____) = Barbara GEIER

Note: Franz Anton, known as Anton in oral tradition, was a soldier in Napoleon's army when he marched on Moscow in 1812 and was either a prisoner of war or a deserter. He ended-up in the Volga Colonies. The tradition goes that his wife was Protestant (which is true) and he was Catholic (also true), so they decided all male children would be Catholic and all females would be Pprotestant. They had seven sons, one of whom was my grandmother's grandfather. The Catholic and Protestant part is correct. Seven children is also correct, but records from Russia have shown that not all the seven children were sons. The name was written and pronounced SCHUBY when my grandmothers family immigrated to the United States in 1909, and the spelling was corrected by nuns, Rose SCHUVIE's teachers in school. The name not being German in origin is spelled many different ways in German, Russian and American documents.

There is no Johann GEIER married to Beatha SCHUVIE in the 1895 Graf Parish Register of families. This is more likely to be Margaretha SCHUVIE married Peter GEIER below. The children match more closely. Also Peter is the brother to Franz and Anton, who married Barbara and Marianna SCHUVIE, who were half-sisters of Gottfried.

She might also be Beatha SCHUVIE b 1866 married to Jakob DACK. See the end of this genealogy. And as Anton SCHUVIE's son Jacob b 1864 married Anna DACK, this could be a very common instance of brothers marrying sisters.

Below are the SCHUVIE women who are listed in the 1895 Graf Parish Census, with no mention of who their fathers were. They can be the daughters of Anton b 1821, Konrad b 1827, Anton b 1837, or Franz b 1845. (except Margaretha b 1861 who is too old to be Franz's daughter).

It is less likely that Margaretha is the daughter of Anton b 1821 and is more likely to be the daughter of either Konrad b 1827 or Anton b 1837, because Anna b 1861 is more likely than Margaretha for various reasons to be the daughter of Anton and is born the same year.

Author's note: Unlikely to be SCHUVIE. There is no Anna SCHUVIE born in 1843 mentioned in the 1850 or 1857 in Graf Censuses. (Unless, by chance, she is the Magdalena SCHUVIE b 1844. This then could be "Anna Magdalena"). (This would further be unlikely due to the fact that if she was Anna Magdalena SCHUVIE then her son Alexander married her brother Gottfried's dau. Anna... Unlikely that first cousins were married to each other).
